Morningstar's KiwiSaver 360 is designed to help New Zealand investors assess the past performance and other key characteristics of their KiwiSaver superannuation options. The accompanying tables show KiwiSaver fund returns over three months and one, three, five, and 10 years to June 30, 2026.

Key Takeaways

- KiwiSaver assets ended the second quarter of 2026 at NZD 147.7 billion, a significant increase of over NZD 10 billion during the quarter because of contributions and market returns.
- Average multisector category returns for the June quarter ranged between 3.3% for the conservative category and negative 11.9% for the aggressive category.
- As expected, the more risk taken accounted for the largest returns this quarter. Over longer periods, risk has rewarded investors with higher returns.

01 Market Commentary

New Zealand Economic and Market Commentary, Q2 2026Overview

Global markets staged a strong recovery during the June quarter as investors looked through the geopolitical shock that dominated the start of the year. While tensions in the Middle East remained elevated for much of the quarter, the signing of a temporary ceasefire agreement and the gradual reopening of shipping through the Strait of Hormuz saw energy markets stabilize and the sharp inflation fears that emerged in March begin to unwind. Oil prices, which had spiked on concerns over supply disruptions, retraced much of their gains by quarter-end, helping restore confidence across equity and fixed-income markets. Global equities rebounded strongly, led by the United States and technology stocks as enthusiasm around artificial intelligence, combined with resilient corporate earnings, reemerged as the dominant investment theme.

In New Zealand dollar terms, international equities delivered solid positive returns. New Zealand equities also recovered, although they continued to lag global peers amid subdued domestic economic conditions and relatively weak earnings expectations. Bond markets were more mixed, with yields remaining elevated as central banks signaled that inflation risks had not fully disappeared despite easing energy prices.

For KiwiSaver investors, the June quarter was a reminder of how quickly market sentiment can shift once uncertainty begins to recede. Diversified portfolios that experienced heightened volatility in the March quarter generally participated well in the recovery as risk assets rallied and energy markets normalized. The quarter also highlighted that while geopolitical events can trigger sharp market moves, their long-term impact is often determined less by the initial shock than by whether they materially alter economic growth or corporate profitability. Maintaining diversification across asset classes and regions again proved valuable, allowing investors to participate in the rebound while reducing the risk of reacting to short-term market volatility.

Fund Manager Results

Almost all multisector KiwiSaver funds increased over the quarter as asset values soared. As for default funds, they averaged an 8.2% increase through the quarter, and they encouragingly averaged 13.2% for one year. Despite being one of the more expensive default funds, the Fisher Funds Default Fund stood out with a 16.1% annualized return over three years.

Regarding nondefault funds, a tighter cohort of managers performed strongly relative to their peers. Generate, MAS, and AMP were notable for being consistently higher in the rankings in the three-month and one-year periods across risk profiles.

It is most appropriate to evaluate the performance of a KiwiSaver scheme by studying its long-term returns. Over 10 years, the aggressive category average gave investors an annualized return of 10.3%, followed by growth (8.9%), balanced (7.2%), moderate (5.0%), and conservative (4.1%).

Market Share

KiwiSaver assets in the Morningstar database increased sharply during the quarter to NZD 147.7 billion. ANZ led with a 16.3% market share at NZD 24 billion in assets at the end of the quarter. ASB was in second position, with a market share of 14.7%. Fisher, Milford, and Westpac rounded out the top five. The five largest KiwiSaver providers accounted for approximately 63.5% of assets in our database, or around NZD 93 billion under management. We estimate that KiwiSaver providers will charge more than $1.2 billion from KiwiSaver members in the next 12 months to manage their KiwiSaver funds, at an average fee of around 0.81 of a cent per dollar invested.

About This Survey

This survey groups KiwiSaver options according to their mix of income and growth assets, or "asset allocation." This is one of the most important decisions to make when saving for retirement. The term "income assets" refers to cash and fixed-interest securities that generally produce stable and reliable returns but offer little opportunity for long-term capital growth. Returns from "growth assets," such as property and shares, can be volatile—as recent market conditions have demonstrated—but over time have shown greater capacity for increasing in value. The mixture of income and growth assets is the major determinant of potential return and volatility.

Investors may notice differences between the returns published in this survey and those they see elsewhere. There are several possible reasons for this. First, the returns published here are after fees but before tax. Second, we take the associated tax credit into consideration when calculating and publishing these returns, while some fund managers base their published performance figures on month-end unit prices only.
